

SOPAC 2011 Evaluation

Keynote 5: The Power of a Connected Community

Speaker: Simon Sheikh (Stephen Mayne)

Number of Responses

SA = Strongly Agree
 A = Agree
 N = Neutral
 D = Disagree
 SD = Strongly Disagree

Course Content	SA	%	A	%	N	%	D	%	SD	%	Approval Rating
The content of this presentation was of high quality	45	46%	30	31%	17	18%	3	3%	1	1%	77%	FALSE
The presentation by Simon Sheikh was of high quality	45	46%	30	31%	17	18%	3	3%	0	0%	77%	FALSE
The topic is of interest to me/my organisation	31	32%	34	35%	23	24%	5	5%	3	3%	67%	FALSE

General comments/suggestions:

Stephen did well as a last minute stand in - not too repetitive in comparison to previous presentations
 No show!! Not even a substitute from get up. Stephen was excellent though!!
 Love his passion, admire his courage and strength in the face of opposition, threats and wish public sector leaders would worry more about doing their jobs better or properly. Great orator with flowing thoughts. Respect those organisations who have chosen to invite Stephen onto their audit committee.
 Although very interesting information shared, there appeared to be no clear structure of Keynote. Spoke very quickly and hardly "came up for breath"! Almost exhausting to listen to! Could have spent more time discussing issues of how to manage the risks of connectivity etc.
 I personally agree Wikileaks can be good to keep politicians etc accountable, if used appropriately.
 Excellent
 Congrats to Stephen Mayne for filling in. Lack of even an agenda slide meant it was difficult for me to follow the train of his presentation.
 A more than capable locum!
 Excellent presentation, informative, a "wow" fluid speaker.
 Good presentation - gets you interested in the use of social networking.
 "Never shown P.P.P." Made it difficult to understand.
 Especially good for a last minute presentation
 Very interesting.
 Brilliant, as was last year. Excellent, informative. Thank you.
 Couldn't see relevance with audit / governance / business
 Good suggestions given on internal auditors working in social media to move interests.